Biography - Carney J. McGuire

I grew up on Long Island, the youngest of 3 sisters with my parents and a parade of different pets. I lived in the Village of Babylon, on the Great South Bay and go there often as my Mom still lives there. I went to Oswego State for Industrial Arts but quickly switched to a BA degree in Communications.

I worked in the Securities Industry after graduating from Oswego in NYC and then on Long Island as a Broker with Charles Schwab. After moving to Saratoga in 1988, I gave that up to stay home with my two sons, Taylor and Ryan. I tried the Financial Industry again for a bit but after 9-11, I once again gave that up and worked as a Fitness Trainer and then went on to open a Personal Training Studio for a few years.

The next chapter of my career brought on Construction Product sales for a company in Malta called Spa Steel. Through much networking, I ended up in Hospitality which is where I have found my niche. I began in Saratoga at the Courtyard and was on board as a sales manager for the Hilton in Albany that opened its doors in May of 2007.

I am now the Director of Sales and Marketing for the Hilton Garden Inn Albany Medical Center. I work mostly with the corporate accounts and on developing relationships with the various institutions located in the University Heights area of Albany.

I moved to Albany from Saratoga about 2 years ago and live occasionally with my 2 sons, as they go about the business of making their way in the world. I am currently considering getting a puppy!!
