

Biography – Tom Piccin

Senior Consulting Software Engineer and Project Manager
Blue Slate Solutions

Tom Piccin is a senior consulting software engineer and project manager with Blue Slate Solutions in Albany. A native of West Springfield, Massachusetts, he has lived in the Capital Region since 2007. At Blue Slate, he leads teams of consultants comprised of software engineers and business analysts, working with clients to improve their business processes, particularly through the implementation of technology.

Throughout his career, Tom has pursued a number of academic interests while continuing to work in the Information Technology field. Most recently, he earned his Doctor of Philosophy in cognitive psychology from Northwestern University, where the focus of his work was conceptual and linguistic development in infants and children. His other academic degrees include a Master of Science in Psychology from Villanova University, a Master of Arts in Linguistics from Gallaudet University, a Master of Science in Engineering Management from the Florida Institute of Technology, and a Bachelor of Science in computer engineering from Western New England College.

Tom is the coordinator of Blue Slate’s community outreach program and has organized company events to benefit organizations such as Girls Incorporated, Habitat for Humanity, and the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation. He lives in Guilderland.