

Biography – Rachel Ryan

Attorney

Iseman, Cunningham, Riester & Hyde, LLP

Rachel Ryan is an attorney who practices in the areas of health care, business and transactional matters. Rachel counsels a variety of health care-related clients, including hospitals, ambulatory surgery centers, and private physicians and practitioners with respect to corporate, regulatory, contract, employment, and real estate matters. She also represents not-for-profit organizations and closely held businesses outside the health care field.

Rachel earned her Bachelor of Arts degree (cum laude) from Harvard University, and received her law degree (summa cum laude) from Albany Law School of Union University, where she was class valedictorian. While in law school, Rachel was the Associate Editor of the Albany Law Review and was elected to the Justinian Society for academic excellence.

She is admitted before the courts of New York, New Jersey and The United States District Court for the Northern District of New York, and is a member of the New York State Bar Association, the American Health Lawyers Association, and the Capital District Women's Bar Association. She serves as a delegate on the New York State Bar Association's House of Delegates and is a member of the New York State Bar Association's Committee on Minorities in the Profession.

Before entering law school, Ms. Ryan was employed for several years as a project manager for various start-up companies in Boston. She currently serves as a board member of Shaker Ridge County Club.
